

Müller-BBM is a leading engineering company with more than 250 employees who provide consulting services in the areas of acoustics, vibration control, building physics and air quality control, among others, for an international customer base.

For our head offices in Planegg near Munich we are looking for an

Engineer / Technician in Vehicle Acoustics [m|f]

Your task is to cooperate in consulting and development projects regarding aspects of acoustics and vibration for the automotive industry and their suppliers in Germany and abroad. The main focus of this position lies in the preparation and execution of acoustic measurements and experimental vibration analyses, including the evaluation and presentation of the measurement results.

You are qualified for this challenging position through completed university studies or a comparable qualification and have profound knowledge in automotive technology and acoustics. Knowledge in vibration measurements and our multi-channel measurement system PAK would be welcome, as well as practical skills permitting you to perform necessary modifications on the given vehicle. You are comfortable in establishing and shaping customer relationships. Constructive cooperation in a team is second nature to you. You are willing to travel, well organised and enjoy being physically active during measurement campaigns. You have a good command of English and a solid working knowledge of German.

We offer you the possibility of becoming active in direct contact with our customers with a high level of independence and personal responsibility. A pleasant working environment in a company with team spirit, an extraordinary employee participation plan, attractive conditions and good social benefits such as a company pension plan and profit sharing are waiting for you.

Does this responsible and varied task appeal to you? If so, we look forward to receiving your application documents including CV, certificates and your desired salary by email.
